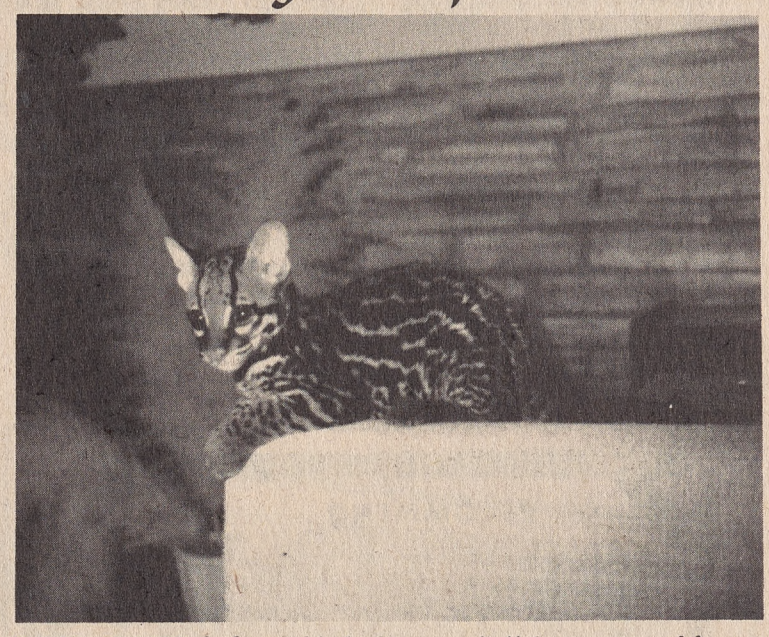
Snoopy, the wandering ocelot, is home again safe and sound



"GEE, IT SURE feels good to be home again," Snoopy purred from her sofa vantage point.

Snoopy, the ocelot kitten belonging to Robert Merchant is back home, healthy and happy. Snoopy, who panicked and ran away last week, was returned home Sunday evening, about 6 p.m. She had been found near the Tennis Ranch according to Sherry Ames who cares for the six-months-old kitten for Robert Merchant while he is out of town on business. Sherry has Snoopy's sister, Lady.

Sherry said that the young man, Chris Christiansen, who found Snoopy misunderstood the notices about the cat and thought that it belonged to tourists who had left by plane from the Valley airstrip. The kitten had run away from the airstrip where it had been out for a run with its master.

Christiansen lives in a remote location above Carmel Valley on the Allen Knight property and apparently was unaware of the vast search for the animal, Sherry added.

In the meantime, Sherry was busy investigating all the many calls she received from persons who thought they had seen or heard the cat. She told The Outlook that she knows every nook and cranny of every ravine and canyon in the Valley now... and she has some scars and black-and-blue marks to prove it.

Upon arriving back home, Snoopy was greeted by her sister, Lady, who proceeded to spend the next three hours cleaning her up and muttering at her.

The two ocelots were obtained by Sherry and Merchant from Ecuador in May, after a wait of several months for clearance on a Pan-American flight to San Francisco. The two belong to a club whose members have "big cats." The two female animals are expected to reach a maximum size of about 25 pounds and are being obedience and leash trained.

However, for a few days Snoopy is a privileged character and not being scolded for anything, just to let her know how good it is to have her back.

CVPOA meets Sept. 28

CVPOA 'Forum' gives Valley road history

The first copy of a newsletter called the "C.V.P.O.A. Forum" has been mailed to members of the Carmel Valley Property Owners Association.

The four-page flyer features a chronological summary of the history of committees, meetings, studies and action taken on the status of the Carmel Valley Rd. since 1951.

The newsletter is timed to coincide with the quarterly meeting of the CVPOA which will be held on Thursday, Sept. 28, in the multipurpose room of Tularcitos School, at 8 p.m.

At that meeting Bruce McClain, County Road Commissioner, will speak on: 1) county views on substandard roads; 2) justification for differences in width of private vs. county roads; 3) road improvement plans for the Village; 4) the "loop" road concept related to the Valley; 5) plans for alleviating traffic problems at junction of Highway 1 and Carmel Valley Rd.

Following McClain's talk, there will be a report on the status of the proposed Valley gas service extension by a representative of PG&E.

Informal discussion will be held after the talks for those who wish to participate.

Since there are residents in the Valley who are interested in the future of Carmel Valley Rd., but who are not of the CVPOA, the following brief resume of the history of action on the road, planlines, etc. has been reprinted in part from the CVPOA Forum, a monthly newsletter sent out by the CV Property Owners Association.

HISTORY OF CV ROAD

1951-56: CVPOA asked PlanCom for a study of plan lines for the Valley road which would preserve a right of way for future needs... Upper Valley Advisory Committee asked PlanCom to order study of plan lines from Los Laureles grade to the Village.. County initiated a four-lane road study.

1962: County four-lane plans, providing for a 110-foot right of way from Highway 1 to Farm Center (Robinson Canyon Rd.) were referred to Valley residents for study. CVPOA poll showed that residents saw four-lane road as threat to rural atmosphere... study units were set up to explore alternate plans.

1963: County dropped plans for a major road south of the river (vicinity of Farm Center to Highway 1) due to approval of the CV Golf and Country Club development.

1963: Widening of the Valley road as two one-way roads, separating and coming together where necessary. Construction of shoulders for pedestrian and bicycle traffic—speed limit of 55mph—Two one-way streets through Village—Extension of plan lines to the Village—Construction of adequate junction to replace dangerous intersection at Highway 1—Planning of two or more routes to Monterey-Salinas highway.

CVPOA recommendations: A planning consultant be retained—Planning for road from Highway 1 to Farm Center to be completed first—Present county plans for four-lane road, scheduled for hearings by supervisors, not be adopted.

Supervisors delayed adopting county's road plans ... J. Campbell of Menlo Park retained as consultant, with the county and the CVPOA sharing the cost.

1963: Plan lines presented by Campbell extended from mouth of Valley to eastern edge of the Village. Eastbound and westbound lanes separated either horizontally or vertically or both, making use of the present road for one of the routes. Village separation to begin at Ford Rd., eastbound using the present road and the westbound going north of the Village (behind the stores) to rejoin the Valley road at Esquiline Rd.

1964: The portion of the Campbell plan lines involving the lower Valley were approved by both the PlanCom and the Board of Supervisors ... The portion involving plan lines for the upper Valley came under fire from residents whose property was in the plan line and from the CV Chamber of Commerce.

1965: County employed Nolte Engineering Co. to redo the disputed upper Valley portion of the Campbell plan. This revision aroused heated discus-

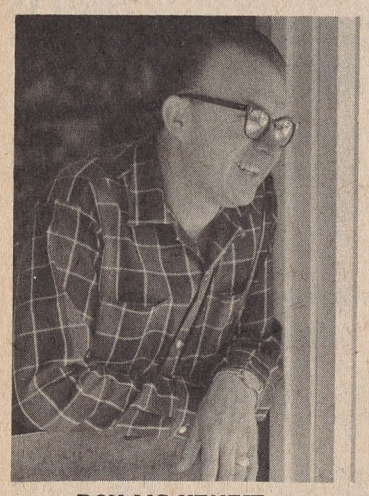
Don McKenzie is named COMSAT administrator

With construction scheduled to start about Oct. 1 on the COMSAT satellite station in Cachagua, the main building should be finished by May 15 and the installation should go into operation in November, 1968.

This was the word from John P. Scroggs, who will manage the local tracking station, who spoke to Carmel Valley Chamber of Commerce meeting last Wednesday at Plaza Linda Restaurant.



DON MC KENZIE

He announced that Valleyite Don McKenzie has been hired as administrator for the local station. McKenzie spent a week in Washington at an orientation meeting of COMSAT station managers and administrators and is expecting to make another trip to Washington in a week or two.

His responsibilities include administration and public relations.

McKenzie, who is vice president of the local Chamber of Commerce, said that his "able wife Jean would keep the home fires burning at the Grapevine," the liquor store they own in the Village.

Jim Green, architect-engineer for the COMSAT project, is living here on Country Club Dr.

Walter Robinson, facilities engineer who will supervise construction, was scheduled to arrive here early this week and to move with his wife into the house on the Cachagua property.

The Cachagua tracking station, Scroggs explained, will serve as a gateway to the U.S. Pacific satellite system, along with another in Japan. He added that he considered himself most fortunate to be able to be connected with a station in such a beautiful area as Carmel Valley.

Several contracts for major sub-systems for the project have recently been let and will be installed in the spring. Philco in Palo Alto is building the big dish antennae. Ratheon of Boston is constructing its ground communication system. Airborne Electronics of Long Island is building power amplification equipment.

The satellites, from which the station will receive and send messages, have a life of about five years, the station manager said. The present one, hovering over the Pacific, is working to capacity, carrying 240 voice and teletype circuits. Television is a minor part of its chores.

Another satellite is to be launched Sept. 27, to augment the system, and another, scheduled to be in the sky by mid-1968, will have a capacity of 1,200-voice circuits. One

Valley clubs cooperate on benefit BBQ plans

Valley organizations met last week to complete plans on their participation in the benefit barbecue for the Ocampo family.

Each one of the groups will take an hour on the "pit crew" for the afternoon and evening barbecue to be held at the Trail and Saddle Club grounds on Saturday, Sept. 30. That way steaks will be kept coming and no one group will be on KP the whole day. Hours are from 2-9 p.m.

Each organization will also take part of the food, either providing it or arranging for its donation.

The Valley Kiwanis Club has the responsibility of the corn on the cob, both cooking and serving. The Lions Club is providing the wood for the barbecue pits, the snowcones and the refrigeration facilities and the napkins.

Los Pobres Club is providing the bread. About 25 loaves have been donated but 75 more are needed. They will also set up a Mexican piggy bank at the beer bar for those who wish to deposit change.

The Little League parents are running the beer wagon, generally policing the grounds, cleaning up afterwards and providing charcoal.

The CV Fire Dept. is in charge of starting and maintaining the fires, splitting the cost of paper plates with the Chamber of Commerce, and the Firemen's Auxiliary is making and serving the salads. The Women's Club is in charge of the salad dressings.

In addition to the paper plates, the Chamber is in charge of raffle and barbecue tickets sold that day.

The Lionettes are cooking and serving chili beans and the Sodality of Our Lady of Mount Carmel Church is making and serving coffee all day.

The youth of the Valley will also assist at the benefit. The CVYO will sell soft drinks and organize games to keep the youngsters busy. The Boy Scouts have the responsibility of keeping the tables clean and washing the silverware. The Camp Fire Girls plan on having a cakewalk operating throughout the afternoon and evening.

The steaks for the barbecue have been obtained at cost from Montemart, and any contributions that individuals would like to make toward the purchase can be arranged by calling Ruth Hall at 659-2048.

The whole Valley has rallied behind the benefit barbecue to raise money for the Kathy Ocampo fund. Kathy, the 11-year-old daughter of Sal and Mary Ocampo, died from a brain tumor several weeks ago. The fund has been established to help the family with medical bills which mounted over the $4,000 mark.

Tickets are available from any of the volunteer firemen, at shops in the Village, and members of Firemen's Auxiliary. Dorothy Palmer (659-2591) is ticket chairman and will be happy to assist anyone in obtaining tickets.

Steak is the menu for both children and adults, with adult portions priced at $2.50 and children's tickets priced at $1.25.

Haircut front quiet

The long-hair and whisker question at Carmel High rested this week as school trustees Wednesday night requested Supt. Harris Taylor to formulate a policy.

Door-to-door canvas to be held for Community Center

A door-to-door fund-raising drive will be held by Valley organizations cooperating with the CV Community Center to raise funds to help the Center get on its feet and set a stable, long-range financial plan. The drive is planned for the second week in October, according to Ken Van Hagen, and each group will take a portion of the Valley to canvass.

At last week's Chamber of Commerce meeting, Van Hagen, who is president of the Chamber and also a member of the Community Center Board, announced that he had contacted the CV Women's Club, the Lions Club and Lionettes, the Kiwanis, Fire Dept. Volunteers and their auxiliary, plus the organizations who use the facilities at the Center.

The benefits and membership drive held by the Center this year have failed to raise the necessary funds to meet the fixed expenses of mortgage payments, maintenance and operating costs.

sion and objections. Subsequent plan combining Campbell and Nolte proposals, approved by PlanCom and the CVPOA but disapproved by many residents.

1965: Reversing the decision of PlanCom, Board of Supervisors rejected plans for upper Valley (Farm Center to Village) plan lines and directed setting of a hearing on recision of the lower Valley plan lines.

1966: Supervisors rescinded the four-lane plan lines for the lower Valley section of the road over the objections of County Road Commissioner and CVPOA.

1967: CVPOA asks reinstatement of plan lines at least as far as Farm Center and reaffirms support of original Campbell plan line proposal. CVPOA polls 2,000 residents (500 replies), for four-lane road from Highway 1 to Los Laureles grade, 248 in favor, 261 opposed—Los Laureles grade through Village, 155 in favor, 390 opposed.

each of this type will sit over the Atlantic, Pacific and Indian oceans. Present under-the-Pacific cables, which are costly to maintain, will still be used.

COMSAT, which is short for Communications Satellite Corp., is a private corporation regulated by the Federal Communications Commission, Scroggs pointed out. It is the U.S. member of a 58-nation communication consortium and manages the system. It owns and manages the earth stations, in partnership with American Telephone and Telegraph, Western Union, International Telephone and Telegraph and Radio Corp. of America.

Chamber Treas. Tom Hefling reported 87 paid-up members and a balance in the treasury of $948.34.

Pres. Ken Van Hagen, who presided, said that the county road dept. is postponing several Upper Valley road improvement projects until PG&E completes installation of hoped-for gas lines.

Virginia DeMaria urged more detailed direction signs at the ends of the Los Laureles Grade Rd.

Lou Gardner of the Chamber Brochure committee announced that a new color photo is being sought, preferably a scenic, for use on the cover of a reprint of the Valley brochure.

Nominating committee includes Pat Swan, chairman; Tom Bottaro, Richard Brinton, Lou Wolters and Hefling.

White Cane Days to be Sept. 29-30

Lions Club White Cane Days will be Sept. 29-30 according to Dick McKenzie, president of the Carmel Valley club. The donations received in exchange for the miniature white canes to be worn on the lapel, help the Sight Conservation Fund and have been instrumental in assisting many blind and sight deficient persons to see again.

During the first White Cane Day, Sept. 29, there will be demonstrations in the Village, the Mid-Valley Shopping Center and Rancho Shopping Center presented by Guide Dogs for the Blind, Inc., of San Rafael.

The Carmel Valley club provides eye examinations for deserving members of the community. They have established membership in the Lions Eye Foundation at Presbyterian Hospital in San Francisco. The hospital will take referrals, make diagnoses and perform surgery as necessary, at no cost to the needy individual.

WE RECOMMEND . . .

Before making arrangements for your funeral or joining a Burial Society contact the Paul Mortuary. Our charges have been consistently lower and complete.

Our facilities also include The Little Chapel-by-the-Sea, Crematory which is located in El Carmelo Cemetary. This Chapel may be used for burial rites as well as cremation service, making for a more complete service, at a considerable saving to the families we serve.

Telephone 375-4159 for appointment at our office or your home if desired.

Fire averted

With the aid of the garbage collection driver, Bob Lambert extinguished a blaze in the living room of their Esquiline Rd. home on Monday morning.

A log burning in the fireplace exploded and sent sparks showering out into the room. Betty came into the room in time to see a pile of newspapers start to flame from the sparks which had dropped on it. Other embers smouldered on the rug and sofa.

Mrs. Lambert called the Valley Fire Dept. who found the couch cushions still smoking and made sure they were out.

CLUBS

CV Women's Club

Board members of the Carmel Valley Women's Club acting as hostesses at the September Membership Tea wore white daisies to distinguish themselves. Guests were pinned with pink daisies.

Mrs. Richard McKenzie was chairman of the affair, assisted by Mrs. James Stuart who was responsible for the floral decorations; Capt. (U.S.A. ret.) Billie Mans, program chairman, and Club President Mrs. W.R. Moore who presided at the tea table.

During the short business meeting reports were heard from Mrs. Elizabeth Hoisington on the Fiesta; Mrs. Adolph Friedenthal, the Straw Hat Festival and Mrs. Rex Pryer, club representative on the Community Center Board, who spoke on ways and means of raising money for the Center.

The October meeting will be a luncheon and card party at Rancho del Monte, with Mrs. Frank DeAmaral and Mrs. John Barry as luncheon hostesses and Mrs. Howard Vail in charge of the card party.

A board meeting will be held Sept. 30 at 1 p.m. at the home of Mrs. Pryer.

Kiwanis

Tom Hefling's victorious team in a Carmel Valley Kiwanis Club attendance contest was treated to free eats at a club barbecue last week Tuesday at Prince's Camp.

Attorney Lou Moore at a moment's notice gave a talk at the previous meeting, replacing Supervisor Willard Branson, who was unable to attend. Moore spoke on the Vietnam elections, Middle East frustrations and population explosion.

Nominated for 1968 officers are Pres. Kevin Walsh, Vice Pres. George Clifford, Treas. Don Quinton and directors, Dean Campbell, Andy Fitzgerald, Bob Lambert, Mark Starr, Ralph Updike, Ken Van Hagen and Rex White. Election will be Sept. 26.

JEANNELLE KAMINSKE learned a lot about exotic cooking and how to simplify it for American homemakers during the years she spent abroad while her husband, Roy, was with military intelligence.

She even made her own tortillas, and if you are ever stuck far from a supermarket, as Jeannelle was, you might like to try them.

Her Blanquette de Veau is a faithful facsimile of a dish served at a fmous French restaurant.

She rounds out our column with instructions for an easy batter to bake over peaches or plums (now ripening too fast in many backyard gardens) to transform them into a delicious dessert.

The Kaminske children were born abroad: Susie, now 10, in Badkreuzanch (bath near the cross) in Germany; Mary, 7, and Ray, 6, in Verona, Italy. Before the children came along, the Kaminske's lived for a time in Japan, high in the mountains at Yamagata (Mt. Gate).

In '53, while Ray was at the Defense Language Institute, they found their Carmel Valley property and Jeanelle's mother, Mrs. Hixie Boone, moved into the guest house and acted as caretaker and gardener until Ray retired from the Army (he is now an insurance investigator).

Jeanelle has two extra-curricular activities which she thoroughly enjoys: she is program chairman for the Community Chapel Guild and is a member of White Oaks Theatre Guild.

BLANQUETTE DE VEAU
(Simplified)

2 lb. shoulder of veal
8 small onions
2 carrots sliced
1/3 c. butter
1/2 lb. mushrooms
1 egg yolk
4 T. flour
1 c. fresh cream
1/2 c. white wine
1 tsp. lemon juice
bouquet garni (parsley, celery, herbs you like)
salt, pepper, warm water

Cut veal in 1 1/2 in. cubes and brown in butter in casserole. Add onions and flour and make roux. Add bouquet garni, carrots, salt and pepper. Add warm water to level with meat. Simmer 1 1/2 hours. 15 minutes before end add mushrooms. Whisk egg yolk in lemon juice. Remove casserole from fire and slowly add egg and lemon juice mixture STIRRING all the time. Pour in cream. Mix well. Keep hot but do not boil. Serve with rice.

(Suggest green beans vinaigrette, sliced tomatoes and chiffon pie.)

ENCHILADAS
(Mexican rolled meat pancakes)

1/2 lb. ground beef
1/4 lb. sausage
1/2 medium onion, finely chopped
1 clove garlic, minced
1 cup chopped spinach
salt to taste

Pancake:
2 eggs
1/4 tsp. salt
1 cup milk
2/3 cup flour
2 cans (8 oz.) tomato sauce
grated cheese

Fry meat, onion and garlic till lightly brown. Add spinach, season to taste, mix well. Beat eggs with 1/4 tsp. salt and stir in milk. Sift flour, beat into egg mixture till smooth. Pour 1/4 cup of this thin batter into greased 10" frying pan, tilt pan so batter covers entire surface. When pancake is browned on one side, remove pan from heat; spoon 1/3 cup meat mixture onto center of pancake, roll pancake around meat and place in shallow baking dish. Continue untill all batter and meat are used, greasing pan before frying each pancake. Arrange in baking dish, pour tomato sauce over and sprinkle with grated cheese. Bake in 350° oven for 30 min. Serves 6. May be made early in the day and baked just before serving time.

FRUIT COBBLER

An easy batter to pour over any sweetened fruit in season. Or over canned fruit in the wintertime.

2 T. butter or other shortening
pinch salt
1 cup sifted flour
1 tsp. baking powder
1/2 cup milk

Mix dry ingredients alternately with milk. Heat fruit first, then drop batter on top. Almost any amount of fruit may be used, depending on depth of pan and the amount of juice preferred. Bake at 350 till brown on top.

Opera Workshop resumes practice

The Monterey Peninsula Opera Workshop, under the direction of Nancy Ness Bowman, with Camille Olaeta at the piano, has resumed its practice sessions for the 1967-68 season on Monday evening, Sept. 11, in the Music Room of Carmel High School Monday evenings.

At that time, Mrs. Bowman announces, auditions will also be held for prospective members of the Opera Workshop.

During the year the group presents operatic concerts and musicales at such organizations as the USO, the Elks Club, retirement homes and supper clubs such as the Fidelity Club of the CV Community Chapel.

No charge is made for these concerts.

Camp Fire Girls to sponsor film

A fund-raising event for the Camp Fire Girls Council of the Monterey Bay has been planned with the showing of Cecil B. De Mille's "Ten Commandments" at Carmel's Village Theatre — 7th and Dolores streets, Carmel — from Sept. 27 through Oct. 3.

Carmel Valley Camp Fire Girls and Blue Birds will sell advance tickets for the film from a booth set up in the Village area. The Carmel Valley groups will receive a profit from all they sell.

Tickets will also be on sale at the theatre box office, but the Camp Fire Girls will not receive a profit from those.

Arrangements may be made for special group showings.

Those wishing further information regarding the purchase of advance tickets may contact any of the Carmel Valley leaders. They are Mrs. Gail Fraties, Mrs. Cleave Harris, Mrs. Robert Hoover, Mrs. Glen Low, Mrs. Clayton Neill, and Mrs. George Palmer.

It is necessary for the Camp Fire Girls of the Monterey Bay area to have fund-raising events since they do not receive community funds, the leaders point out. They are hoping this sale will be a huge success.

Kudos to firemen

Occasionally one hears someone comment on the clowning around that members of the fire department engage in when there isn't a fire or an emergency.

We wonder if they stop to think of the countless number of hours these men give of their own time in dedicated public service. They deserve some uninhibited relaxation.

Contrary to popular thought, the volunteer fireman in Carmel Valley is not paid one cent (with the exception of fire chief Chip Collins and fireman Don Laird). Two dollars per man is put aside from each call on the basis of the number attending but this money is used to pay for the insurance which the district carries on the firemen. There is no compensation for first aid calls.

Several of our local men who were injured in fires would not have been able to exist if it had not been for this coverage.

One only has to look at the roster of active members to see the dedication of these men. Of the 23 firemen, 11 have been with the department for over five years and two more will join the five-year group next month. Six of these have over ten years with the department.

That's a lot of years and an unbelievable number of hours spent in instruction and study as well as actual first aid and fire control.

During the past year, men have taken three different college-level courses at MPC night school. Sixteen weeks of Fire Science and the use of fire apparatus and equipment, Fire Service, hydraulics and mathematics and an advanced rescue course kept them burning the midnight oil many a night.

Every Monday night is drill night, where equipment is checked out, instructional films are shown, and refresher courses are taken.

During the winter months several of the men volunteer another one or two nights a week to teach the Red Cross safety courses to local residents.

Sixteen of the 23 men are experienced well into professional capacity in first aid. Each fireman has a radio receiver in his home which is activated either by the siren which can be set off in six separate locations or may be used directly without siren. Often at night, the siren is never blown for an emergency, so sleeping Valleyites are unaware of many calls. This communication system, with a computerized direct call board is of the latest design, according to Chief Collins. It was installed about two years ago.

Last year, the men made 206 calls, of which 102 were fires. Their efficiency is indicated by the fact that we live in a Class 6 insurance area. The rate for a Zone I residence, within five miles of the station and within 500 feet of a hydrant, is 17.8 cents per hundred. Zone II homes, which are within 1,000 feet of a hydrant, pay 18.9 cents per hundred.

Compare this to the 40.8 ratio which we would be paying in an unprotected area. The savings in insurance more than makes up for the amount of taxation that maintains the fire protection district.

It has been almost twenty years since the charter was first taken out for the Carmel Valley Volunteer Fire Dept. Several years passed before realization was complete, but since that time, the men have increased their numbers, their time and training to keep up with an ever growing Valley.

TO THE EDITOR

Volunteers to the rescue

Editor, The Outlook:

During the week of Aug. 28 a member of our party suddenly became ill while staying at Robles del Rio Lodge. Mrs. W.D. Wood called a doctor and an ambulance. In an unbelievably short time an American National Red Cross ambulance arrived. The ambulance waited at the doctor's office and, after the initial examination was completed, took the patient to the Community Hospital of Carmel.

We were amazed when we learned that the ambulance service was provided free of charge by the Red Cross with the help of volunteer citizens of Carmel Valley.

We wish to congratulate the people of your community who have the leadership and spirit to provide the excellent service we found there.

Very truly yours,
Jane Gallivan

Rebuttal from Water Co.

Editor, The Outlook:

To have The Outlook, editorially, continue the reiteration of mis-information about the Robles del Rio Water Co. is somewhat surprising since some basic facts have been available whenever desired.

Fact #1: There has been some confusion about shares for many years. By and large these instances of confusion were inherited by the present board, not caused by it. Ever since the present secretary has been on the board she has worked countless hours on these inherited problems, and has succeeded in solving a number of them.

Prior to her coming there had been three secretaries in as many years; they found these problems to be quite baffling, as they are. In a number of instances the problems were simply filed away for future handling. Among these papers were found checks made out to the company; they had never been cashed pending the solution of the problem.

No fault or blame is deserved by former members of the board; they simply did not know what to do about the problems. The present secretary in her devotion beyond the call of duty has straightened out a large number of transfer matters that had been filed and forgotten. These details are available to any who prefer the facts to the current sound and fury signifying nothing.

Fact #2: The editorial states that there are 350 shares. Maybe so, maybe not.

The editorial omits the pertinent fact that the number of shares greatly exceeds the number of shareholders, due to the fact that some of the latter hold anywhere from two to a dozen shares. This omission falsifies the picture: not through intent I am sure, but through ignorance of the fact. If, as you say, "225 have been reached by letter and proxy," this is almost phenomenal for the total number of shareholders may not be much larger than that.

Furthermore these shares do not belong to persons but to pieces of property; they go with the parcel of land like the trees that grow on it. It may well be that the shareholder concept is unworkable now that the Valley is becoming more congested, but the board has done its dead level best with the complicated problems handed to it.

Fact #3: The editorial says that the "corporation had better update its records." Again you create the wrong impression in view of the fact that the board has worked long and hard to do that very thing. "Hanky-panky" according to the dictionary means trickery and underhand dealing. Do you have such evidence?

If so, it should be brought out in The Outlook for all to see. If such evidence cannot be presented it is then the duty of The Outlook to make public an admission that the charges that might be inferred from the editorial are without foundation.

Yours for fair play,
George D. Greer

To Robles shareholders

(Editor's note: Reprinted below is a letter which has been sent out to shareholders in the Robles del Rio Water Co. by a group of local citizens who have formed the Robles del Rio Open Space Conservation Organization, ROSCO.)

Your shareholder response to our presentation of a few facts at the Aug. 15 meeting of the water company was so emphatic and favorable that we have organized a group of interested shareholders into ROSCO. if we are to keep Robles del Rio free of any additional commercial enterprise — golf course or real estate — we need your further support and hope you will join with us.

Our primary goal is to represent the majority of shareholders who, we believe, want to keep our area rural, friendly and neighborly, the features that attracted us to make our homes here. We do not want our beautiful winding roads choked with traffic. We want our open space for our enjoyment and WE DO NOT WANT OUR TAXES RAISED just because somebody wants to make money at our expense. This land is ours, to enjoy as open space, as it was when deeded to the shareholders of the water company. We are confident that the deed restrictions cannot be broken and our attorney has told us that our position is sound.

Prior to the press announcement of Aug. 30 we were informed that Mrs. Jet Porter had contacted some residents of Robles del Rio proposing to develop the open space in question as a real estate subdivision. Since such a proposal, by provisions of the Grant Deed, would require the unanimous consent of the contiguous property owners and since replacing the open space with a real estate subdivision would lower values of these contiguous properties, we do not believe the Porter plan or any such scheme in the future has any chance of materializing.

We are also sending a proxy for your use which we urge you to SIGN, DATE, AND RETURN TO US. MAKE SURE ALL JOINT OWNERS SIGN THE PROXY CARD. Your proxy will help us evaluate our strength under the cumulative voting procedure and we suggest you mail it to us even if you expect to attend the next meeting of the water company. YOU KNOW WHAT WE STAND FOR AND WE PLEDGE TO CARRY OUT OUR PROGRAM IF WE OBTAIN A MAJORITY VOTE ON THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS. A brief biographical sketch is enclosed for your information. If you have information or ideas you would like to express, please enclose them in a note to us when you mail us your proxy. COME TO THE MEETING IF YOU CAN!

Sincerely,
Robert G. Read,
Chairman

RESCUED BY KATHY... Mrs. Gwen May, SPCA Humane Officer, remembers Kathy Ocampo as a little girl who made friends with a lost squirrel, and took care of it until she could come take it home. The squirrel had strayed away from the May menagerie on Garzas Rd. which is well stocked with all manner of wild creatures in need of help. This particular bushy-tailed friend had become so tame that the Mays were afraid it would be an easy prey for dogs and were delighted to get Kathy's call. They took this picture for her to keep as a souvenir.

Two weeks ago Kathy died of a brain tumor and Valley residents are rallying to help her family with the tremendous burden of medical bills which were incurred, with a benefit barbecue on Sept. 30.

Oldtimers reminisce at Museum of Art preview

The opening of the Carmel Museum of Art on Saturday night found a goodly number of Carmel oldtimers among the more than 200 guests at the champagne preview of the museum's first exhibition.

These residents of long standing derived pleasure from seeing the work of artists they had known in the past once more on display. They appreciated the interest shown in the work of members of the Carmel-Monterey art colony prior to World War II, by persons who were seeing the paintings and sculpture for the first time.

Former Mayor Herbert Heron, also founder of the Forest Theater, could remember the work of some of artists being shown in the old Arts and Crafts Club hall before the first World War and the first sessions of the Carmel School of Art in 1915.

Mrs. Nelly Montague, first curator of the Carmel Art Association Galleries (only it was gallery in those days) was delighted to see artists she had worked with once again having their pictures admired. Barnet Segal and Edda Heath recalled their efforts in obtaining a gallery for the art association.

Frank Lloyd remembered acting in a play at the Forest Theater when it looked like the painting by M. DeNeale Morgan.

Mrs. Guthrie Courvoisier (Moira Wallace), who was born in Carmel and early showed her ability as a painter, reminisced about artists represented in the exhibition.

The pictures brought back childhood memories to Judge Gordon Campbell and Mrs. Roderick Wilson. Mrs. Ansel Adams was happy to see so many of her artist parents' contemporaries represented on the museum walls. Hal Boyd talked to Mrs. Elsie Martinez about the days he had studied with her husband Xavier (Marty).

To Mrs. Paul Whitman, Mrs. Myron Oliver, Mrs. Paul Mays, Mrs. Burton Boundey and Mrs. Frank Myers there was joy in again seeing work of their husbands displayed.

But some of the artists included in the show painted on the Monterey Peninsula before the oldtimers were born and before there even was a tiny village called Carmel... back in the days when Robert Louis Stevenson roamed through the forest and along the beach.

Shaw play to open at Circle Theatre

A stellar cast of tried and true Peninsula performers has been announced for "Arms and the Man," the G.B. Shaw play which inspired the popular "Chocolate Soldier" musical comedy.

"Arms and the Man" will open Friday, Sept. 15 at 8:30 p.m. at the Circle Theatre, Casanova near 8th, presented by the Community Players under the direction of Norman McPhee.

Nick Hovick has the lead role and opposite him will be Anita Whitaker who played his lady-love in "Charley's Aunt" throughout the summer.

Also in the cast are Marcia Hovick, Dick Bird, Joan Swartz, Winston Elstob and William Lewis.

LEISURE TIMES

A STAR of the Bolshoi Ballet is seen above in Ravel's "Bolero." Acts from this and other ballets will be included in "Bolshoi Ballet 67," a Paramount Pictures presentation which will be shown at Carmel's Village Theatre as the Carmel Museum of Art's first community project. Behind-the-scenes shots of the famed Russian ballet company will be included in the film scheduled for Oct. 4 and 5. Evening showsings will be at 7:30 and 9:30 p.m. and matinees at 1:30 and 3:30 p.m. Special showings may be arranged through the Carmel Museum of Art, Dolores near 7th, which is open 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. daily.

Explorers Club announces high adventure series

The Explorers Club of San Francisco has announced its 1967 travel nd adventure series to be presented at Sunset Auditorium.

This year there will be five color documentaries with "in person" narration by their photographers, opening with the "Mediterranean Holiday Isles" Saturday, Oct. 7 at 8:15 p.m., with Nicol Smith.

Others films in the series will include "Bavaria, the Best of Southern Germany," with narration by Clay Francisco, Oct. 20; "Greece and the Greek Isles," Nov. 2, with television personality Col. John D. Craig; Lowell Thomas Jr. will make one of his rare personal appearances to narrate his film, "Alaska," on Nov. 16.

The series will close Saturday, Dec. 2, with radio personality Chris Bordon narrating his new film, "Wide, Wide Mexico."

Tickets are available at Central Box Office, 6th and Dolores, Carmel, 624-6739. They are $6.50 for the series or $1.75 each.

At the Forest Theatre

Last concert of summer

Vocal and instrumental performers will be heard in the last program of the summer at the outdoor Forest Theater in Carmel Sunday at 2 p.m. There is no admission charge.

Two piano four-hand compositions will be interpreted by members of the Chamber Music Society: Mozart Sonata in B-Flat and a Samuel Barber work, Souvenirs. The pianists are Angie Machado and Frederick Schaad.

Soprano Norma Jean Hodges will sing the Mozart Alleluia and the Saint Cecilia's Day Ode, to be followed by three Beethoven folk songs. She will be accompanied by an instrumental trio composed of Welton Lee, violinist; Louise Vadetsky, cellist; and Camille Olaeta, pianist.

The instrumental trio will also interpret the Beethoven Trio #4 in B-Flat.

The city's Forest Theater committee is composed of former arts commissioners Barbara Norberg, chairman, Joseph Danysh and Mausita Jennings.

The committee urges those who have enjoyed the summer programs and wish to have them continued next year, to contact Carmel Mayor Steve Grant, Carmel Cultural Commission Chairman Dr. James Gilman or Barbara Norberg.

'Offsite' proposal sets off sparks

By MARJORY LLOYD

OFFSITE ONSET..."No!" said Councilman Herbert Blanks. "Only if I can pay my own way," declared Councilman William Sefton. "I want the city attorney there," emphasized Councilman Gunnar Norberg. "I am not afraid of what anyone is going to say," contended Councilman Eben Whittlesey. "I am willing to give a 48-hour gift to the city," Mayor Steve Grant announced.

These were the attitudes expressed at last week's special city council meeting. Under discussion was the proposal that the council hold an offsite conference at Pasatiempo Inn in Santa Cruz, conducted by Dr. Melvin Steckler, business administration consultant under contract to the city, with City Clerk Hugh Bayless, an elected official, as a participant.

BOLD INNOVATION

Purpose of the offsite, Steckler explained, is to remove council members from their environment and families so, while living together, they can discover previously unknown characteristics of themselves and their relations to one another. These characteristics ordinarily are not visible as they work with each other.

The offsite should be undertaken in "a spirit of bold innovation" because no city council, as yet, has used this device adopted by large enterprises such as Standard Oil of New Jersey, Steckler pointed out.

Councilmen agreed an offsite undertaken by them would have to be "an all or none" proposition. But Blanks still said, "No!"

Sefton admitted he would participate fully in an offsite but insisted he would pay his own expenses on "the excursion," not use taxpayers' money. "No one is going to say I went at city expense," he stressed.

Norberg insisted that he was willing to participate if City Attorney William B. Burleigh was present to see that no violation of the Brown Act took place. Norberg was afraid councilmen would discuss some city matter without a member of the press or public being present. He felt that using public funds for the offsite was acceptable as the conference was part of Steckler's research program for which the city has already authorized expenditure of $5,000.

"I don't like to see this group of men so dominated by fear of violating the law that they refrain from an innocent activity. I don't intend to violate the Brown Act. I am not afriad of what anyone is going to say," contended Whittlesey, but he agreed to having the city attorney attend the conference.

CITY TO PAY?

Using city funds to pay offsite expenses was similar to the city paying the expenses of councilmen at League of California Cities conventions. Both undertakings are designed "to help us more effectively serve the city," he added.

Musicians to contribute time, talent for Arts Coordinating Council benefit concert Oct. 12

Three renowned musicians who have recently made their homes on the Peninsula, will present a concert at Sunset Center on Oct. 12, at 8:30, for the benefit of the Arts Coordinating Council of the Monterey Peninsula.

Rosario Mazzeo, clarinetist, a member of the Boston Symphony Orchestra from 1933 to 1966, and his wife Katie Clare, concert pianist, recently moved to Carmel Highlands.

In addition to the clarinet, Mazzeo plays the basset horn (tenor clarinet) and the bass clarinet. He has conducted and played with many large chamber music ensembles at Tanglewood and has had solo parts written especially for him by Hindemith, Schuman, Harris and others.

He was personnel manager of the Boston Symphony from 1942 until his move to Carmel.

His wife, Katie Clare, a graduate of Toronto Conservatory of Music with a master's degree from the University of Washington, has given piano solos and played with chamber ensembles in Seattle, Vancouver, New York, Boston and Paris. She also toured Iceland playing chamber concerts with members of the Boston Symphony.

Jascha Veissi, former concertmaster of the San Francisco Opera Association, completes the trio. Veissi plays a 16th century Casparo da Sallo viola, dated 1540. Unlike the modern viola, this is an exceptionally large instrument. Coming from a musical family in the Ukraine, Veissi made his concert debut at the age of eight. He became assistant concertmaster for the Cleveland Orchestra after he came to the United States and continued studying in Paris under Georges Enesco during summers. Although he is also a violinist, he decided to specialize on the viola.

Since 1950, Veissi has been director of Chamber Music at Scripps College and the Music Academy of the West at Santa Barbara.

Tickets for the Oct. 12 concert are $3.50 with the balcony available to students and military personnel at $1. They may be purchased at the Bach Festival Office in Sunset Center, ABC Music, Academy of Music in Seaside or from Arts Coordinating Council, P.O. Box 2344, Carmel, accompanied by a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Sculptors, alert! Get set for annual Sand Castle Contest

Great Sand Castle Contest time is drawing near in Carmel. The contest which lures hundreds of children and adults to Carmel Beach is scheduled for Sunday, Oct. 1.

The traditional contest, now in its sixth year, is held on the south end of the beach at 13th St. Most contestants arrive armed with picnics to spend the day.

Sponsored by the Monterey Bay Chapter of the American Institute of Architects, Grand Sand Marshal Don Brown invites contestants to design their masterpieces in two categories, Novice Sandpile and Advanced Sand Box.

Although construction may begin in the early morning, registration will be held at 1 p.m. with judging around 3:30. Chief Judge of this year's event is Boris Jacoubowsky, who will have a team of assistant judges.

Sand Marshals of the event are Eddie Fischer, Richard Rhodes, Gene Takigawa, Roger Scott and Jim Brady.

More Mission Fiesta activities announced

John Calgogno, general chairman of the Fiesta of San Carlos de Borromeo, to be held on Sunday, Oct. 8, has announced that there will be activities for young and old alike.

A four-piece band, "The 37 Scence," will play for a teenage dance in Crespi Hall which will begin at 2 p.m. and continue until 5 p.m. Mrs. Bruno Odello, chairman of the dance committee, has announced that admission will be 50¢ with reasonable standards of dress required.

Calgogno urges participants and guests to the Fiesta to wear Spanish costumes in keeping with the mood of the day. He hopes to have the habit of wearing costumes well established before the bicentennial observance in 1970.

"Prizes will be awarded to the man and woman wearing the most suitable costumes," he added.

The Fiesta will begin at noon and will feature a chicken barbecue, typical Spanish dishes, games and entertainment. The traditional breaking of the pinata will also be a highlight of this year's Fiesta.

Local realtors to attend L.A. meetings

Six members of the Carmel Board of Realtors will attend the annual convention of the California Real Estate Assoc. to be held from Sept. 23 through Sept. 28 in Los Angeles.

Jack Martin, Charles McEwen, Skip Marquard, George Conn, Derek Lawford and Margaret Fortin, executive secretary of the board, will be among the 3,000 realtors expected to attend.

Gov. Reagan will deliver the keynote address on the opening day, after which there will be numerous workshops, panel discussions and conferences.

Pianist Boyer names teaching assistant

Gilbert Boyer, Carmel concert pianist and the director of the Gilbert Boyer Piano Conservatory, has named Mrs. Paula Cunningham to be special teaching assistant for beginning and intermediate students. Mrs. Cunningham has been coaching in piano repertoire for the past few years. She has been a resident of Carmel from time to time since 1943 and studied with Margaret Aitkenhead, beginning her teaching career seven years ago.

Republican Women

The Carmel Republican Women's Club will hear an address by Casper W. Weinberger, chairman of the Commission on California State Government Organization and Economy ("Little Hoover Commission") on Friday, Sept. 22.

Mr. Weinberger's talk is entitled, "Republicanism – California Style."

Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Jones and children Joan, Dana, and Dwight of El Hemorro have returned from a summer in Oregon. From the early spring flowers until the first signs of fall at their departure, it was a productive vacation for the Valleyites who built a summer home on their land near Butte Falls.

The Valley Bridge Club held their monthly masterpoint tournament Tuesday when they met for an evening of play at the Community Center.

Winners in the North-South were Mrs. R.E. Bisnett and Mrs. E. Lichty in first place; Mrs. Lois Ann Bethea and Mrs. Colleen Mills in second place; and Mrs. Trulee Ricketts and Mrs. Mary Angier in third place.

In East-West Mrs. R.B. Stoney and Mrs. Arno Hanel captured the first place; Mrs. Doris Pellett and Rick Pellett were in second place, while Bob Fonseca and Doug Watson won third

A warm Valley welcome to Lt. Cmdr. and Mrs. William G. Smith who have moved to 220 Robles del Rio recently from Lemoore. Janet and Bill have two pre-schoolers, Molly and Sara, and a son, Bill, who just entered kindergarten at Tularcitos.

Their stay in the Valley will be for two years while Bill obtains his B.S. degree at the Naval Postgraduate School.

The seven sons of Maj. John Barry have even more reason than usual to be proud of their father when they discuss the 23 air medals which he has received to date for over 550 missions which he has flown in Vietnam. No longer flying combat missions, the major is now attached to MAF in Da Nang while his family plan a November homecoming.

During the summer, Rita's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Heim of Long Island, N.Y., were guests at the Barry home on Sage Rd. Also visiting was Rita's grandmother, Mrs. Ellen Corcoran of Manhattan. Mrs. Heim, who celebrated her birthday with a dinner party at Will's Fargo has been associated for many years with McGraw-Hill book publishers.

The Heims were so impressed with the Upper Valley that they now qualify for the Property Owners Assn. with the ten-acre parcel of land in the Jamesburg-Arroyo Seco area which they purchased jointly with the Barrys.

"Happiness is becoming a great-grandparent ..." just ask Mr. and Mrs. Clinton W. McCombs of Paso Hondon who attained that special status on the eleventh of September. The first child born to Mr. and Mrs. James McCafland arrived at 9:45 a.m. at the Community Hospital, weighing 7 lbs. 6 oz. She has been named Tamara Ann.

Her parents, Christine and Jim, moved recently from Lemoore and are making their home in Castroville. In addition to her great-grandmother and great-grandfather in Carmel Valley, Tamara is the maternal granddaughter of Mrs. Frits Hansen of Carmel and her other maternal great-grandparents

INTERNATIONAL

For the adventurous who want to be by themselves and who want comfortable road-running transportation, the International V-8 Scout is the answer, according to Pete Arnando and Scott Cole of Commercial Truck Co. of Salinas, the dealer.

Offering four-wheel drive, the V-8 Scout provides extra traction for every trail.

It also has made advances in comfort, with a roomy interior, featuring plenty of head room and bucket seats if desired.

Safety is boosted with a padded instrument panel. Its full instrumented dash tells all in a glance.

With standard three or four-speed floor-mounted synchro-mesh transmissions, it also offers options in two or four-wheel drive and four-cylinder or V-8 engines.

Rover-Sunbeam

"I never met a safety engineer in Detroit who would lie awake at night because he thought he hadn't done enough. Rover people would."

That quote from an article in "Motor" magazine of July 16, 1966, tells the remarkable safety story of the Rover 200 and TC, according to Bob Baird of Bob Baird Motors, Rover and Sunbeam dealer.

"All in all, Rover built a car that would handle as well as possible, hold the road as well as possible and then, if worse came to worst, provide the passengers with as much protection as possible," Baird declared.

Regular safety features include such things as disc brakes on all four wheels, a warning light that indicates low brake fluid level and radial ply tires.

The Sunbeam sports car, also handled by Bob Baird Motors, is the British sports car now imported and backed by Chrysler Motors Corp. The new Sunbeam Alpine boasts a modest price tag, but is built well enough to carry Chrysler's exclusive five-year/50,000-mile power traing warranty.

CHEVROLET

A new peak in individuality among Chevrolet's six car lines is reached for 1968, Ernie Singleton, who heads Roller Chevrolet, said this week.

A total of 41 new Chevrolet, Chevelle, Camaro, Chevy II, Corvair and Corvette models go on sale Thursday, Sept. 21.

Highlights include:

– All new advance design bodies for Chevelle, Chevy II and Corvette, with introduction of two wheelbases with the Chevelle line.

– A longer, more luxurious regular Chevrolet, new sportiness for Camaro and continued stress on the special features offered only by Corvair.

– Important safety improvements, exhaust emission controls, and anti-theft provisions are standard equipment

– Improvements in ride, handling and performance including a larger base V-8 engine for the regular Chevrolet, Chevelle and Chevy II.

– Introduction on several lines of full door windows without ventpanes, hidden windshield wipers and dual level "Astro" ventilation.

Heading a list of more than 400 options and accessories is a power vacuum door lock system, a lamp monitoring system to tell the driver if his front and rear lights are working, front disc brakes and added availability of stereo tape players.

Safety improvements range from energy-absorbing front seat backs and safety armrests positioned to shield door handles to seat belts for all passenger positions

DODGE

Dodge's all-new, second generation Charger, introduced last week, features semi-fastback design and jet-age aerodynamic styling, Arnold Green, of Arnold Green Dodge said.

Designed as a full-size sports car, the new Charge represents a radical departure from the fastback styling of the Charger introduced in 1966, but continues its performance image.

And for the new year, the two-door hardtop Charger has a special performance model – the Charger R/T (Road and Track).

Wedge-form design places styling emphasis over the rear wheels with the design tapering forward to convey a forward thrusting look.

A recessed backlight has been added for improved visibility and curved side glass of 60-inch radius hints of aircraft cockpit styling. Instruments canted to the driver continue the aircraft theme.

Headlights are set in the grille and concealed by an eyelid type door that automatically moves out of the way when lights are turned on.

Charger R/T is equipped with the high performance 440-cubic-inch V-8, heavy duty suspension and brakes, dual exhausts and wide tread tires.

Charger's all new six passenger interior features front bucket seats with an optional center cushion console in an exclusive all-vinyl design.

Standard engine in the Charger is the 318-cubic-inch V-8. Options include the 383-cubic-inch V-8 two-barrel, 383-cubic-inch V-8 four-barrel, the 426 Hemi and the 440 Magnum.

SAAB

Something new and flashy in the sports car world, the SAAB Sonnett II, is taking its bow at Scandia Motors.

Ollie Anderson of Scandia waxes poetical in his description of the streamlined little sports job. "It's poetry in motion," he said, "which explains why it's called a sonnett."

The Swedish Saab is front-wheel drive, giving extra traction, for safer, sure-footed driving. Its bullet style gives it an air-resistance rating of only 0.35.

Taking curves as on rails, the Saab Sonnett is a proven winner in the Monte-Carlo 850 where it has been the Rally winner. "Saabs have shown they can take it," Anderson added.

It boasts extra long side beams, box-type bulkhead behind the seats and built-in roll-bar. Sonnett's the only production sports car to offer rollbar as standard.

The low, light body is made of fiber glass in only five sections. The whole front folds upward for easy access to the three-carburetor engine, the automatic oil injection system or the thermostat-controlled fan.

Summarizing, the Saab Sonnett purrs over 105 mph if there's the need, is a comfortable two-seater, includes disc breakes and a steel chassis of enormous strength for safety. Saab engines also offer a lifetime warranty.

VOLKSWAGEN

Volkswagen's trend-setting station wagons and box-like trucks have been given attractive new looks and a number of major mechanical improvements for 1968, all contributing to easier handling, sedan-like roadability, greater comfort, and increased convenience.

"This year's improvements give both our station wagons and economy trucks the handling and riding characteristics which most people associate only with sedans," said Wester of Wester Motors.

Most noticeable change in the series is in the sleek exterior appearance, but there are plenty of other improvements inside and "under the skin" in traditional Volkswagen fashion.

On the outside, both the VW station wagon and truck have wraparound windshields, rounder corners, elongated "picture windows" and long side body panels, all contributing to a smoother and longer appearance although the vehicles were lengthened only five inches overall. They now measure 174 inches long – still shorter than conventional sedans and easily maneuvered in and out of tight parking spaces.

BUICK

Graham Buick will introduce its 1968 cars Monday with a completely new body for all intermediate size models, plus a wide array of new safety and styling features throughout the entire line.

The new styling for the Special Delux, Skylark and GS models, reveals Jim Ellis, a Valley resident and manager of Graham Buick, features the contoured sweepline down the side, introduced on the upper series last year, longer hoods and shorter decks and a shorter wheelbase for two-door models.

Rivieras have been given a new look – front and rear – and the regular size cars in the line, Electra, Wildcat and LeSabre, also have a new '68 appearance with new grilles, hoods, taillights, bumpers, instrument panels and interiors.

"All 35 models in the line," Ellis said, "have new side marker lamps that operate with headlights. Windshield wipers are concealed within a space provided by the curved edge of the hood."

CHRYSLER

The 1968 Chryslers are beautifully here – at Cypress Motors Inc. – and they're all new.

That's the word from Manager Sam Mader of Cypress. "There are 15 models to select from in Chrysler's series of five."

The New Yorker is the most luxurious Chrysler and offers such choice options as an eight-track stereo tape system and automatic air conditioning.

As sophisticated a station wagon as there is, Chrysler's Town & Country is a thing of handsome distinction. It boasts such tidy options as a new rear window wiper, concealed in the tail gate.

The "300" Chrysler is the new version of the sports-bred Chrysler. Standard equipment includes such unusual features as concealed headlights and a big 440-cubic-inch V-8 engine.

There's also the Newport Custom with all the basic Chrysler luxuries and the Newport, the easiest-to-own Chrysler.

Cross country prospects look good to coach

Carmel High cross country runners will officially open the season at a center meet of all schools in both the Mission and the Monterey Bay leagues Thursday, Sept. 28, at York School.

York School and Laguna Seca Properties will be the scene of not only center meets this season but sectional and championship contests as well. Padre Cross Country Coach Lloyd Baskerville said it is an ideal site and praised the York School and Laguna Seca Properties for such fine cooperation.

About 20 boys are out to date for cross country, and Coach Baskerville expects at least another five shortly.

Besides the regular league competition on Thursdays, other races will be run during halves at home football games.

"Cross country prospects look good," Coach Baskerville declared, with three returning veterans and three more up from the JV's. These include veterans Noel Mapstead, Matthew Ward and Dan Dills. Up from the JV squad are Mike Lundblad, Jim Vanlaudingham and Mark Eisenhauer.

Cypress swimmers rank high in Far Western AAU meet

The Cypress Swim Club moved forward a few more notches in AAU rankings last weekend at the 1967 Far Western AAU Synchronized Swimming Championships held in Paso Robles for the third consecutive year.

The Far Western, which draws entries from the eleven western states, saw the Cypress swimmers move up in all events. Last year, two Cypress teams were entered, and placed sixth and seventh; this year, the "A" team, "Grand Polonaise," swum by Bonnie Banker, Lindy Doud, Marnie Mark, Kathy Neill, Jan and Sharon Roehl, Susie Selfridge, and Judy Snyder, placed third.

In duets, the Roehl sisters moved from 12th place position last year to fifth this year; Mark and Selfridge from 14th to seventh; and Banker and Snyder from 15th to ninth.

In the eleven-and-under category, Kim Pilkenton and Melanie Sayers, swimming for their first time in routine competition, won a fifth place ribbon, and placed sixth and 13th, respectively, in stunt competition.

In senior stunts, from a field of 150 entrants, Cypress "A" team members placed as follows: Jan Roehl, 11th; Susie Selfridge, 16th; Lindy Doud, 18th; Sharon Roehl, 19th; Judy Snyder, 20th; Bonnie Banker, 21st; Marnie Mark, 25th; and Kathy Neill, 32nd.

Padres win 21—22 in football opener

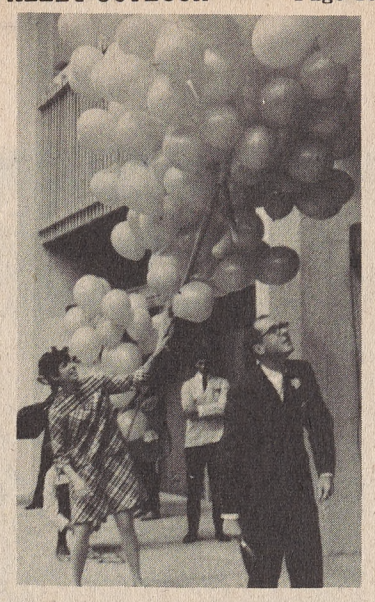
Spending the first half of the ball game against Junipero getting warmed up Saturday, in the second half the Padres took off in high gear to win 21-12.

This Saturday also on the home field, the Padres open league play against Gonzales.

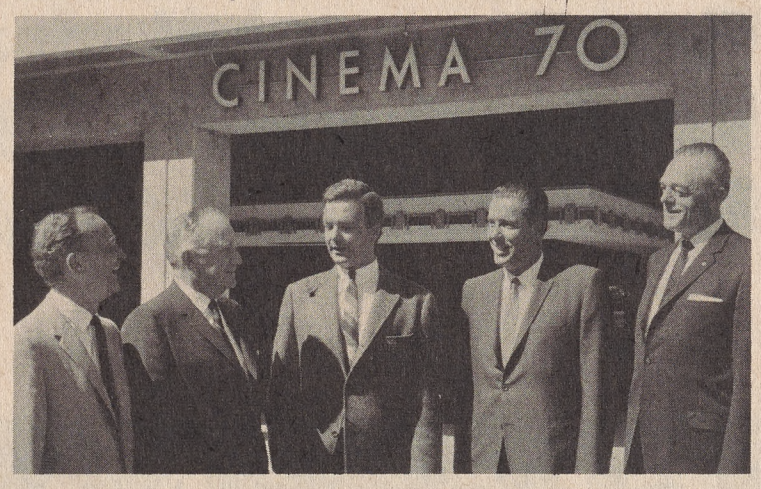
With the Padres' defensive unit in the field for the final half, fullback Steve Hall scored Carmel's first counter, with Randy Newman kicking the extra point.

Next, Ross Smith, taking Newman's pass, went to the two-yard line. Bob Gamble went through the middle to score again. Hall went across the line for another point.

Still another touchdown came in the last quarter, following successful drives by Hall.



MACY'S manager, Kirk Davidson, whose new home is in Los Ranchitos, Carmel Valley, snips the line that sent 100's of balloons skyward during the grand opening last week of the new Del Monte Center.



GRAND OPENING smiles for Del Monte Center were conspicuous during a press review, as witness these key leaders. From left are Howard Williams, manager of Kindair Corp., owners of Cinema 70 in the Center, Valley Cinema and others in the area; E.R. Champion, vice president, international marketing and public relations of Honolulu, for Dillingham Corp. which built and owns the Center; Pres. A.G. Michaud of Del Monte Properties Co., which owns the land on which the Center is located; John Malone, of San Francisco, vice president of Dillingham Corp. of California, and Hal Honore, Cinema 70 manager. Valley weaver Joni Clayton going to Africa on 5 month trip

A first trip to Africa is being planned by Carmel Valley Weaver Joni (Florence) Clayton, who has traveled to many other parts of the world to study and practice her art.

She will be gone from her home in Carmel Valley Manor for five months this trip, which will take her around the world to Kenya, Mozambique, Uganda and the Union of South Africa.

On the way home she will make stops along the west coast of South America, another area she has not yet visited although on two earlier trips she studied her craft in the eastern part of the continent, visiting mostly Lima to study historical weaving. She found the modern work interesting, too, but not as good as that of Guatemala, she says. Her South American trips included that country and Mexico, where she also found the contemporary work good but the ancient weaving most exciting.

Working with native weavers wherever she could borrow a loom, Mrs. Clayton has also studied in the Orient, stopping in Japan, Hong Kong, Bangkok, Singapore and the Philippines. On these trips she says Thailand was most exciting to her.

She has been to Scandinavia many times. And her favorite country for modern crafts in Europe is Finland. "The Fins are the top weavers of Europe," she says. "They are a great contemporary people."

Mrs. Clayton was born in Nashua, N.H., and attended Columbia University. She had no art instruction until after her marriage and a move to Salt Lake City. Here she began her weaving study with the late Mary Atwater whom she reveres as the "dean of American weavers."

Joni Clayton taught weaving as an occupational therapist after the war, but not until she was widowed did her craft become a consuming interest, and she began her travels to study not only its history, but the latest weaving trends and techniques the world over.

Mrs. Clayton demonstrated her art to friends and neighbors at the Manor as part of their Labor Day celebration.

As well as her loom there, she has her own studio and exhibit room at the new Peninsula Potters organization of craftsmen at 229 Hoffman St., in New Monterey. She belongs to the Northern California Handweavers Assoc., recently attending its workshop in Mendocino.

By now an unusually well-seasoned trekker, Mrs. Clayton travels alone, but she expects to join up with groups in Africa on many tours, as guides are still a necessity in that vast land.

White Oaks Co. 'kidnaps' pair

THERE WAS A KIDNAPING in Carmel Valley last Wednesday. Margot Doolin, publicity director for White Oaks, and her fiance, George Salinger, bar manager at the Carmel Valley Inn, were at work at their respective posts when masked hoodlums whisked them away. The abductors, complete with tommy guns and black slouch hats, transported them into the wilds of Upper Robles del Rio, where they found the entire White Oaks Company waiting with a surprise engagement party in their honor.

Smithers are honored at silver wedding by the Charles Walkers

The Charles Walkers of Palisades Dr. in Carmel Valley hosted a surprise party on Sept. 2 in honor of the silver wedding anniversary of the E.L. Smithers of Pacific Grove.

The evening was climaxed with a mock wedding put on by the friends of the honored couple who have been getting together once a month for pot-luck suppers for the past 20-25 years.

Many in the group have already celebrated their silver wedding anniversaries including the hosts, who have their 32nd this month. Others who have passed the quarter century mark were the Gordon Downeys, Cedric Jaspers, B.W. Baldwins, R.E. Manhires, the Charles Colridges from Oakland and the Robert Westfalls from San Jose.

Other friends who enjoyed the evening were the Walkers' daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. H.M. de Leon from Sacramento, the A.R. Walkers, William Akards, and the Anson Caudills.

Nasons take birthday cake on camping trip

A birthday party out in the middle of Los Padres National Forest was Marion Nason's way of celebrating this year, since her ninth birthday coincided with her family's annual horse-pack trip.

Marion's party was held at Big Pines camp high above Big Sur with a decorated cake, party favors and all the trimmings. How her mother, Ann, transported the cake by horseback and got it there is a secret that only she knows.

The Nasons were joined by the Richard Zoellin family, Dick and Evelyn, and their two daughters, Sylvia and Julie, Tracy Rushmer, and Jean Menke and her two daughters, Margaret and Kathleen. Sally Swanson, and children, Kris, Wendy and Cash, caught up with the group at Hiding Camp bringing the total to 21 horses, four dogs, 12 children and six adults.

Fred and Ann Nason have been making pack trips with large groups for a number of years and the Nason children, Fred, Jr., Gail, Marion and six-year-old Tommy have been making the treks since they were babies.

This particular horse-pack trip began back of Los Padres dam with the first two days spent at Big Pines, overlooking Point Sur and the Pacific. Two days were spent at Hiding with a final stop for lunch on the way home at Carmel River Camp.

three buddies with whom he spent a "night on the town" reliving their tour with the Moral Re-Armament Show, "Up With People."

Prior to his OCS acceptance, Bill completed advanced training at Ft. Polk, La. The last nine weeks of his duty there were spent instructing cadre classes.

Arriving home on leave he was greeted by his parents, Cmdr. (ret.) and Mrs. William Stowers, and Miss Carol Hall of Chico, who was a house guest at the Stowers' home on Country Club Dr. Bill spent six days in the Valley with members of his family and friends and then four days in Chico with Carol and her family.

Before leaving for OCS he was entertained at the Ginza with a dinner party by long-time friends, Amy and Kay Nobusada and their daughter, Arlene.

As his leave ended he flew to Washington, D.C., where he joined 1,000 members from all over the world for a production of Sing Out America staged at Constitution Hall. His next stop was David's Island, New Rochelle where the Sing Out Festival has spent the summer. He participated in a performance there, too, and sang all of the roles which had been his during his year with the Sing Out tour.

Counting the days until Dec.

Genial Dick Moore can be found once again in the familiar surroundings of his Carmel Rancho Pharmacy following a brief pre-college holiday in northern California and southern Oregon with his son, Richard Moore, Jr., who has enrolled at the University of Wyoming. Young Moore plans to major in pharmacy at Laramie.

The twosome stayed with Dick's grandmother at their former home, Tule Lake, and visited the Moore's daughter, and many of their friends and relatives in the Klamath-Siskiyou counties area.

"An old oak leaf cluster" to gals who wish to remain anonymous, but who spent many hours organizing a bake sale which netted $210.06 for the Ocampo fund. More than 75 Carmel Valley housewives prepared baked goods for the sale which took place Friday and Saturday in the Village. Many children assisted at the booths on Saturday.

A remarkable part of this drama was the fact that many of those who helped had never met the Ocampos. An outstanding example was Mr. Joe Sena, a house guest at the El Potrero home of his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Ron Rasmusson. This rare good neighbor baked nine cakes!

Via "Oaks 'N Cactus" those in charge wish to express their thanks to everyone who assisted in making the sale a success with a special thanks to Helen Knight for her help and contribution.

Valley home to be on tour

JOHN McCORMACK home on Brookdale Dr. which is one of six included in the WAL house tour on Sept. 23. Encased in rich redwood paneling, the central location of the kitchen is apparent in this photograph by Joseph Szewczak. Seen from the family room, it is flanked by the dining room on one side and by the central hallway on the other. Beyond is the living room.

The Carmel Valley home of Mr. and Mrs. John P. McCormack on Brookdale Dr. will be one of six houses designed by members of the AIA which will be opened to the public on Sept. 23. The McCormack home was designed by Donald Wald of Pacific Grove. John is a teacher at Tularcitos School.

The house tour is being sponsored by the Women's Architectural League, an auxiliary to the American Institute of Architects' local chapter.

Three Carmel homes will also be included. These are the self-designed home of Joyce Stevens on Carmel Hill, the home of Esther Hill on Scenic Rd. and Santa Lucia, designed by Marcel Sedletsky, and the Mar Monte home of Danny Garcia, designed by Burde, Shaw and Assoc.

Proceeds will benefit the League's scholarship fund.

Mrs. Marcel Sedletsky is chairman of the house tour, assisted by Mrs. Joyce Stevens and Mrs. Walter Burde.

Tickets will be available at each of the houses on the tour.

Italic writing class seheduled

A beginning class in Italic handwriting will begin Tuesday, Oct. 3, and will continue for six weeks at All Saints' Church, Carmel.

A $25 fee covers the cost of materials plus providing a donation to the school. The course is limited to 15 students and pre-registration is required by telephoning the Day School, 624-9171.

One business that's really catching on is the telephone answering service. These businesses (not part of the phone company) answer the phone for just about everyone who needs to be available to the public at all hours: lawyers, repair services, salesmen, and doctors—just to name a few. Since the first one was originated over 40 years ago, the number of answering services in California has grown to more than 700 and they serve over 100,000 clients.

From taking department store orders after hours, to serving as a secretary for busy people, the telephone answering service is another part of the ever-widening range of telephone uses. And you'll find them listed in the Yellow Pages of your telephone book.

Starting September 22 the Bell Telephone Hour will be presented every third Friday. Please check your local newspaper for time and station.

Have you ever spent unnecessary time searching through stacks of old papers, coupons, and matchbooks for an important phone number—only to find it written on a crumpled grocery list?

Well, I've found there's an easy way to keep those important numbers handy. Just call the Monterey Business Office and ask your Service Representative for a Personal Telephone Directory. She'll gladly send you one free.

Your Personal Directory has space for names, addresses, Area Codes, personal and emergency numbers. It's the handy way to keep frequently called numbers at your fingertips. And if you want more than one, just let her know. She'll be happy to send them to you.

Cynthia Hansen weds

Newly wed couple to study in Colorado

St. Dunstan's Episcopal Church was the setting for the morning wedding of Cynthia Hansen and Thomas Anson.

Cynthia is the daughter of Mrs. T.W. Hansen of Middle Canyon Rd. and Cmdr. T.W. Hansen of Norfolk, Va. Thomas is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Anson of Grand Junction, Colo.

Father Jim Brock officiated at the Sept. 9 ceremony.

The bride's gown was of eggshell white saki with re-embroidered Alencon lace in the crescent bodice. The full shirred back of the short-length gown was accented by a simple center bow and Alencon lace sleeves.

Four tiers of English illusion veiling were held by a blossoming headpiece of rosebuds with satin ribbon streamers.

The bridal bouquet was of gardenias and stephanotis.

Cynthia's sister, Kathleen, served as her maid of honor and was dressed in yellow organdy. Her bouquet was of carnations and gardenias.

Dahl L. Aubert of Grand Junction, Colo., was best man with Christopher and Marc Hansen, brothers of the bride, acting as ushers.

The bridegroom's parents, a sister, Mary Ellen, and Dahl Aubert drove to the Valley to attend the wedding.

His mother wore a turquoise suit with white accessories and the bride's mother wore a green knit suit.

A reception was held at the bride's family home on Middle Canyon Rd.

After a wedding trip to Colorado, the young couple will live at Gunnison, Colo., where they are both enrolled in Western State College. He will be a senior and she will be in her sophomore year.

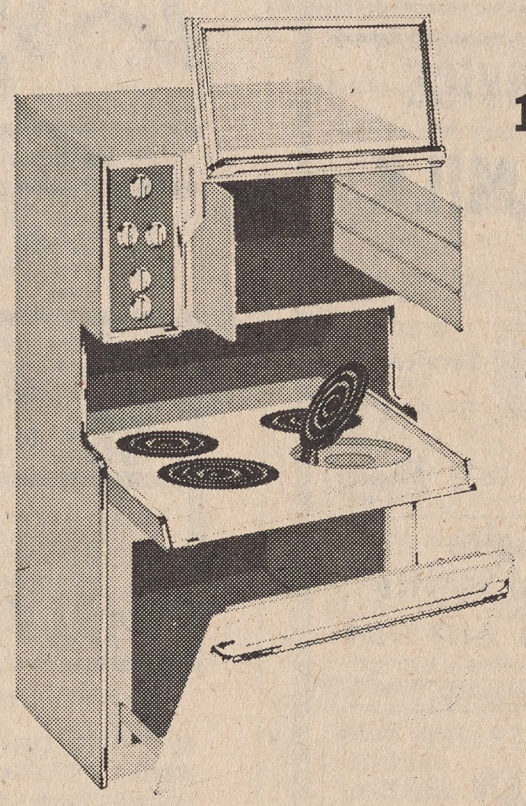
If your range doesn't have easy-to-clean features like these... you're working too hard.



1 Slide-out panels—In some new electric ranges, the sides and floor of the oven pull right out, so you can turn an oven inside out for easy cleaning. In some models, the panels are Teflon-coated—so oven spatters wipe off with a damp sponge.

2 Lift-up cooking elements—This electric range feature makes surface units easy to clean. Just lift the elements, and drip bowls come right out for fast cleaning in your sink.

3 Removable doors—Most new electric range models have oven doors that slip right off or glide-up out of the way when you're cleaning. They bring any oven-cleaning job within easy reach—and allow you enough elbow room to take care of it quickly.

Other electric range cleaning features—Include a disposable oven liner that you simply throw away when soiled. And there's even an oven that cleans itself—electrically.

not a memory...

When you have a mortgage, you have a debt. You pay it off if you live. Your family must try to pay it off, or lose the home, if you die—unless you have a mortgage cancellation policy. Such a policy will not only pay off the mortgage for your heirs but, if you live, the cash built up in the policy is available if needed for home repairs or other emergencies.

Jean Arthur 'freaks out'

City Clerk Hugh Bayless assured the council that the city attorney could foresee no violation of the Brown Act in the interpersonal conference, also that use of public funds for the offsite was legal.

At one point in the hour-long discussion, Blanks was about to overcome his reluctance to explain why he would not attend the offsite. Just then Whittlesey's Guide Dog, Regan, growled. "I consider that a sign," said Blanks and gave no elucidation of his attitude.

By a 4-1 vote the decision to hold an offsite Oct. 6-8 was made. Left unresolved was the location. At the insistence of Sefton, a place nearer to the city, such as Carmel Valley, was to be considered, for the "non-decisive but self-exploratory conference," as Steckler phrased it.

CURFEW LAW... Prior to getting into the onsite discussion, the council gave first reading to an ordinance which will permit the mayor of Carmel to declare a temporary curfew during hours of darkness if emergency conditions ever arise.

SUNSET REZONING... Last week Carmel planning commissioners considered a rezoning ordinance for Sunset Center. In the proposed law to provide appropriate zoning (A-2) for a municipal cultural and community center, conditional uses, commercial in nature, are to be allowed. These are parking garages and book, print, food and drink concessions. Municipal and governmental uses other than those now permitted will be allowed under the new law, too.

Adm. C.W. Fisher, president of the Carmel Citizens Committee and a former member of the Carmel Cultural Commission, urged planners not to make overly restrictive rezoning decisions. The future of Sunset Center should not be bound by any present concept of a municipal cultural and community development, he stressed.

Mrs. Effie Mead asked the commission to give consideration to neighboring property owners of the two-block Sunset site. Chairman Dorothy von Meier replied that this was the commission's intention.

The public will have an opportunity to speak for or against the Sunset rezoning at a public hearing on Oct. 5. At this time, Commissioners Fred Keeble and Charles McEwen will make a presentation of the rezoning law prior to discussion.

FREAKING OUT... One day last spring Jean Arthur looked out the windows of her weather-beaten house at green hills, sparkling ocean and golden beaches stretching to Point Lobos. She spoke affectionately of her four cats. It would be hard to leave them, also her peaceful Oriental garden, the beauty beyond her windows and the quiet life in her secluded home, the first house completed on Carmel Point.

Only a play about a vital phase of life today had intrigued her enough to end almost two decades of retirement and she was returning to the Broadway stage, she said. Now, while a friend tends her pets and home, Jean Arthur is in New York rehearsing her role of an old maid who "freaks out" after being "turned on" by a young niece and the niece's "hippie" friends.

"The Freaking Out of Stephanie Blake" will open in the Eugene O'Neill Theatre on Broadway on Oct. 30 with Jean Arthur as the lead. Playing opposite her will be Sidney Lanier, a former Episcopalian clergyman making his Broadway debut. John Hancock is directing the Richard Chandler play. Producers are Cheryl Crawford and Carl Schaeffer.

Fiesta meeting

Tom Hefling, treasurer of Fiesta de los Amigos, called a meeting of the Fiesta Board Monday to request that half of the net profit from each Fiesta booth be turned in as soon as possible so that all outstanding bills can be paid.
